7.1.6 Institution is committed to encourage green practices

1. Encourage use of bicycles / E- vehicles

The college does not permit all vehicles to enter the campus premises. Only members of the college fraternity are allowed to enter with their vehicles. The campus restricts automobile access, and most vehicles are parked in the designated parking area.

2. Create pedestrian roads in the campus

The college is well connected through buses, autos, and e-rickshaws from various locations. Additionally, the college provides convenient walkways for students and employees to use. They can choose to either take the bus, walk, or ride bicycles outside the college main gate. The college constructed special walkways equipped with street lights for added safety and accessibility.

3. Develop plastic free campus

College staff and students take oath to not use plastic bags on Lohri celebration. Nss organize a workshop on not to use plastic bags and use of alternate of plastic bags. Students make different alternate bags in this workshop.

4. Move towards paperless office

Office use tally, excel and other software to store students data to reduce the use of paper in office.

INTRODUCTION

The Green Audit is like a check-up for an Institute's impact on the environment. It's a way to see how well an institute is doing in terms of being eco-friendly. Imagine it as taking a close look at everything an institute does, from how much energy it uses to how it manages waste and even its impact on the air and water around it. The idea behind the Green Audit is to find ways for institutes to be kinder to the planet. It's not just about following rules and regulations; it's about going above and beyond to make sure an institute is doing its part to protect the environment. During a Green Audit, experts visit the institute to observe how things are done and talk to people who work there to get a better understanding of their practices. They collect lots of data to see where improvements can be made.

After the audit, a report is created that highlights what the Institute is doing well and where it could do better. It also helps to improve awareness about environment among students. It's like a roadmap for the Institute to become more eco-friendly. Overall, the Green Audit helps institutes become more aware of their environmental impact and find ways to reduce it, making the world a cleaner and healthier place for everyone. The National assessment and accreditation council Delhi (NAAC) has made it mandatory that all educational institutes should submit an annual green audit report.

OBJECTIVES

The purpose of the Green Audit at MM College of Education is to evaluate environmental practices, identify areas for improvement, ensure compliance with regulations, promote sustainability initiatives, and enhance the institution's commitment to eco-friendly practices, contributing to a greener and more responsible campus environment. The core goal of Green Audit is to evaluate, improve, and ensure sustainability compliance. Objectives of green audit are as follows :

- To assess environmental impact.
- To ensure regulatory compliance.
- To promote sustainability initiatives.
- To minimize resource consumption.
- To cultivate eco-consciousness.
- To drive positive environmental change.
- Contribute to long-term sustainability.
- To compile records of the college's plant and animal diversity.
- To assess the energy needs of the college and determine requirements.

To record the waste management procedures implemented within the college.

METHODOLOGY

The methodology of a green audit typically involves several stages:

1. Pre-Audit Preparation:

Identify Target Areas: Determine the specific areas of the institution to be audited, , water usage, waste management, and environmental awareness.

Gather Information: Collect relevant data and documents related to the institution's environmental practices and policies.

2. On-Site Audit:

Data Collection: Conduct interviews with stakeholders, observe environmental practices, and review documentation to gather more information.

Physical Inspection: Conduct a physical inspection of the campus to identify areas of concern and opportunities for improvement.

3. Data Analysis and Reporting:

Data Analysis: Analyze the collected data to identify trends, areas of concern, and opportunities for improvement.

Reporting: Compile a comprehensive report .

OVERVIEW OF COLLEGE

The society of this Institution consists of a selfless, committed set of philanthropists and public-spirited citizens and has a clear-cut Vision and Mission, aiming at improving a lot of common masses. A Managing Committee headed by Shri Rajiv Batra and eminent educationists from different fields manage the college. However, autonomy is given to the college principal to organize and manage the college. The financial and academic advice by the management is given to the Principal from time to time. The committee of the NCTE has also been visiting the college to the maintenance of the norms for the professional programmes. The management is very supportive of the development of the college and provides ample encouragement to staff and students.

WASTE MANAGEMENT

Manohar Memorial College of Education (MMCE) in Fatehabad has instituted a comprehensive Waste Management Policy with the primary goal of advancing environmental sustainability and reducing the institution's ecological impact. This policy places a high priority on practices aligned with the waste hierarchy, emphasizing waste reduction, reuse, recycling, and recovery as superior alternatives to landfill disposal.

All members of the MMCE community are expected to fully comply with this policy and adhere to waste management regulations. The objectives of the policy encompass ensuring strict compliance with waste management legislation, minimizing waste generation, fostering environmental awareness, investing in recycling opportunities, delivering waste management training, and adopting a holistic approach to waste management.

The responsibility for implementing and upholding this policy rests with various stakeholders, including the Advisory Board, the Environment Sustainability Management Cell, support staff, teaching and non-teaching staff, and students. An action plan has been devised to guide the college community in the pursuit of waste avoidance, minimization, recycling, and the safe disposal of hazardous waste. In the future, MMCE plans to establish common treatment facilities for various waste types.

MMCE's Waste Management Policy mirrors the college's unwavering commitment to cultivating a cleaner and healthier environment through responsible waste management practices.

RAIN WATER HARVESTING

The institution has adopted a vital water management initiative in the form of rainwater harvesting. This practice involves the collection of rainwater from various surfaces, including rooftops, with the aim of replenishing groundwater levels and decreasing reliance on external water sources. This eco-conscious approach not only helps in water conservation but also plays a role in mitigating soil erosion. The collected rainwater is primarily utilized for lawn irrigation. The college actively conducts regular awareness programs on water conservation and rainwater harvesting through various communication channels. These efforts are geared towards educating and sensitizing the college community about the significance of preserving water resources and embracing sustainable practices.

GREEN INITIATIVES BY COLLEGE

The college has embarked on various green initiatives to champion environmental sustainability within its campus community. These initiatives encompass:

1. Landscaping Focus: With a significant portion approximately 75% of the campus dedicated to landscaping, the college prioritizes green spaces, fostering biodiversity, and improving air quality for the benefit of students and faculty.
2. Green Cover Advocacy: A substantial 60% of the campus area is adorned with greenery, illustrating the college's commitment to tree planting and maintenance efforts that contribute to a healthier ecosystem.
3. Active Environment Sustainability Management
4. Cell (ESMC): The College's ESMC serves as a catalyst for environmental awareness by orchestrating events, workshops, and campaigns aimed at educating and engaging students and faculty in sustainable practices.
5. Resource Efficiency: The College underscores the importance of resource conservation through initiatives such as water-saving techniques, adoption of energy-efficient lighting, and implementation of waste reduction strategies.
6. Environmental Consciousness: Integrating environmental considerations into everyday operations, the college conscientiously evaluates the ecological impact of its activities and endeavours to minimize its carbon footprint.
7. Pursuit of Excellence: Despite commendable performance in environmental stewardship, the college remains dedicated to continual improvement, exploring avenues such as drip irrigation and adoption of water balancing reports to further enhance its sustainability efforts.
8. Environment as a part of curriculum: - Environmental studies is a curriculum part of for B.Ed , B.A.B.Ed and D.El.Ed Programms.

These green initiatives underscore the college's steadfast commitment to environmental responsibility and its mission to cultivate a campus environment that prioritizes sustainability for the betterment of current and future generations.

CONCLUSION

The audit process involves extensive team dialogues and engagements with key staff members on various environmental facets. At M.M. College of Education the Environment Sustainability Management Cell champions the cause of resource conservation.

A significant portion of the college campus, approximately 74%, is dedicated to landscaping, boasting a green cover of 60%. The college exhibits a commendable commitment to environmental stewardship, conscientiously considering the environmental impacts of its activities. Nevertheless, this report seeks to propose additional avenues through which the college can enhance its sustainability practices and further its evolution into a greener institution, notwithstanding its already commendable performance.

Initiating certain actions, such as introducing drip irrigation and conducting regular assessments of water flow from taps, is paramount.
